
The sets of two custom characters that are needed to define the 10 double height digits.
Only 8 programmable characters available, so reprogram on the fly to display up to four unique digits simultaneously.